Build value for your business and clients

During a time of heightened market volatility, rising professional standards, and growing client expectations, building value in the financial advice industry is becoming ever more challenging.

At the same time, the role of the adviser is becoming increasingly critical. Clients require advice on a wide range of issues, and advisers need the flexibility to focus on providing genuine, goals-based advice. Creating value for your clients and your business requires not only a change in process but a shift in perspective.

Managed accounts help you unlock value by placing you at the centre of the advice process. They allow you to access a large and diverse team of experts to build and manage portfolios on your client's behalf, giving you more time to focus on giving high-value, strategic advice that's tailored to your client's objectives.

More advisers are turning to managed accounts

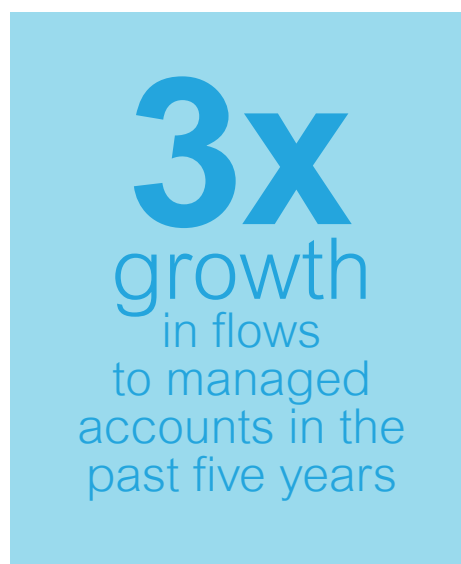

Managed accounts have rapidly become a trusted solution for advisers, and their clients are increasingly becoming aware of the benefits.

How managed accounts enhance your advice value proposition

Managed accounts have become a popular way for financial advisers to scale their investment solutions and achieve greater efficiency and regulatory compliance.

But advisers are also starting to realise how powerful managed accounts are in transforming client conversations and giving them a greater stake in the advice process. Managed accounts have shifted advice from a time-intensive, admin-dominated business to one focused on objectives, client education and communication.

By outsourcing the investment side of advice to a professional portfolio manager, advisers can demonstrate their commitment to an objectives-based approach that avoids conflicts of interest, draws on a wide range of quality investment products, and incorporates high-conviction ideas.

How managed accounts benefit the adviser

Greater efficiency

Reduce time associated with portfolio implementation, creating more time to work on your business or growing your client base.

Best interest duty

Avoid potential conflicts of interest and support your best interest duty by providing investment solutions managed by external parties.

Stronger client relationships

Less paperwork and administration creating more time to focus on strategic advice and enhancing the value of your financial advice offering.

Improved risk management

Your client's portfolio is underpinned by a professional investment process and remains within the required risk management obligations.

Lower costs

The significant reduction in compliance and reporting means advice businesses can reduce admin overhead.

Deeper client conversations

Reporting and communications from the portfolio manager can be used to show how the client's objectives are being met.

Reduce your compliance burden

Managed accounts can help you meet your statutory and professional duties by outsourcing investment selection decisions to professional portfolio managers.

With Lonsec's managed accounts you can access institutional grade solutions that are based on market leading research, meaning you avoid potential conflicts of interest while spending less time on monitoring and reporting.

Focus on delivering high-value, strategic advice

Whether its early access to super, cash flow management, or strategic business advice, clients are looking to their advisers for a holistic, goals-based solution.

By relying on Lonsec's professional portfolio managers, you are enabled to provide strategic investment advice, managing the strategic asset allocation, and reviewing and rebalancing the investment mix in line with your client's objectives.

Have deeper conversations with clients

Lonsec's managed accounts bring the role of the adviser to the forefront of the wealth management process.

Regular market insights and accessible portfolio reporting support in-depth client conversations, allow you to demonstrate the value of your advice, and give you the freedom to focus on attracting and retaining clients.

Enhance the value of your practice

By outsourcing the day-to-day portfolio management to experienced investment professionals, you can unlock value in your advice practice that is independent of your people and processes.

This means you have continuity in your business' value, even when key people leave or internal processes change.
